

The University of Western States (UWS) accepts applicants who meet program admission requirements.

UWS considers an applicant's academic background as well as positive social and humanistic qualities characteristic of future competent health care providers. Motivation, scholastic achievement and an honest desire to serve are important factors. Applicants to any program with a clinical focus must take part in an admission interview.

UWS offers equal educational opportunities to all qualified students without regard to race, color, gender, sexual orientation, marital status, national origin, national citizenship, religion, age, disability, and veteran status.

Admissions requirements are made available to applicants and to the public in published admission materials, in the UWS Catalog and on the university website.
