

The University of Western States Board of Trustees supports diversity in both employment and education within the university.

The board encourages the administration to promote diversity within student, staff, faculty, and administrative populations. The board encourages the administration to seek to enroll a diverse student body to help assure that the university, its programs, and related health professions are enriched through the participation of individuals from different racial, cultural, and ethnic backgrounds. In addition, the board encourages the administration to hire qualified employees with a goal of increasing diversity and gender balance within university personnel.
