THAT'S WHY YOU
BELONG
AT UWS.

WELLNESS BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

At UWS, students are a part of a community that cares about the same things. Surrounded by the beauty and energy of the Pacific Northwest, you'll do more than study what it means to achieve— you'll live it. From triathlons to farmers markets to the wilderness of Mt. Hood or sands of the Pacific coast, you'll live a full life alongside peers who are just as fun to hike with as they are to collaborate with as study or lab partners. Above all, you'll gain confidence and expertise while learning from practicing chiropractic physicians who are the best in their field. You will have the opportunity to connect with alumni who are making a difference in the community.

Students thrive at UWS because the concept of whole person care is more than an idea—it is what they experience for themselves.

“As a student, I gained so much from participating in the Student American Chiropractic Association (SACA). I was president of our campus chapter, and then was invited to serve on the national SACA team and travel to Washington, D.C. My network expanded so much, and I was even awarded a scholarship through those connections.

UWS gave me the opportunity of a lifetime, to intern and later work for a chiropractor who owns an incredible sports medicine clinic with his wife and who is also the team chiropractor of the Portland Timbers and Thorns. UWS shaped my life and career in such profound ways.

MY NETWORK
EXPANDED SO MUCH.

YOU CARE ABOUT TRUE WELLNESS.

You want to support your patients' journeys toward lasting health. You think beyond pain management to assist them in achieving their goals. That is why you belong at UWS. We are the established leader in whole-person health care.

THE TRANSFORMATIONAL POWER OF INTEGRATED MEDICINE.

Since 1904, we have been a leader in integrated health care, creating a whole-person, science-based approach to chiropractic education. Here at UWS, your education will be grounded in science, evidence and innovation preparing you to help your patients and the broader health care community understand the transformational power of integrated medicine.

BUILD REAL RELATIONSHIPS WITH PATIENTS.

Doctor of Chiropractic (DC) students come to UWS to become experts in whole-person patient care, and they start immediately. From the program's outset, students learn from experienced faculty members with strong foundations in evidence-informed health care who have treated patients across a broad spectrum of populations, from elite athletes to pediatric and geriatric patients. Students gain hands-on experience while learning to embody UWS's basic tenet: each patient is unique and must be evaluated and cared for according to their unique needs. Students graduate as trusted chiropractic leaders fully prepared to transform the lives of those they serve.

WHY UWS?

HERE ARE FOUR REASONS UWS IS THE RIGHT PLACE TO PURSUE YOUR FUTURE IN CHIROPRACTIC MEDICINE.

1

OUR GRADUATES ARE WELL-PREPARED.

Most students who take the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners (NBCE) exams pass all parts within six months of graduation. Our curriculum does what it should do: prepare students to become competent, confident chiropractic physicians.

2

OUR GRADUATES HAVE CUTTING-EDGE LEARNING RESOURCES.

Our Doctor of Chiropractic program incorporates modern technology, innovative teaching methods and resources. Students learn while working in a state-of-the-art educational and clinical facility, placing their advanced skills and training at the forefront upon graduation.

3

OUR GRADUATES ARE READY TO PRACTICE.

Hands-on clinical experiences ensure students have strong skills to begin their careers. Students progress from a simulated patient clinic, to working in the campus clinic, to then working in an internship out in the community. Preceptorship opportunities are widely available throughout the U.S. and Canada.

4

OUR GRADUATES SEE THEIR EDUCATION PAY OFF.

Chiropractic consistently ranks among the most employable careers, with great job security, high job satisfaction and low rates of unemployment. It is a career that provides low stress, schedule flexibility and attractive salary potential in return for your hard work and investment in your chiropractic education.
